What do we offer?

Learn more than just "diversity management", create effective and ethically sound synergies! Study online, part-time and workplace relevant with people from around the world to gain orientation for pressing ethical challenges.

Target groups

Design for working professionals and leaders who are confronted with the challenges of globalization in their professional contexts and are particularly interested in ethical reflection (i.e. people who work in international companies, educational institutions, non-governmental organizations, etc.) EID is also attractive for students who seek expertise in intercultural communication.

Requirements

Higher Education Degree with at least 180 ECTS
English (B2)
Work Experience
Application

Deepen your knowledge about fundamental ethical questions:

- How do we engage with ethical principles different from ours?
- What kind of ethical and political concepts are sound in a globalizing and yet unequal world?
- How can we orient ourselves and others towards creating a sustainable culture of encounter?
- What does it take to build a corporate culture that that will sustainably attract and retain skilled employees from around the world?
